

Indigita integrates data from SIX to further simplify on-the-go cross-border and financial product suitability checks

Geneva, 16 March 2021 - Swiss regtech company Indigita SA has announced it is now processing data from financial infrastructure provider SIX to further enhance the capabilities of its successful inApp solution. The updated version of the Swiss cloud-based software features a new component, which allows instant checks on product placement and tax suitability for all asset classes by entering the respective ISIN codes.

Thanks to a direct connection to the Valordata Feed (VDF) from SIX, inApp now features an ISIN search for faster access to financial product and tax suitability checks. In addition, the all-new version introduces a simplified navigation and personalised tags for financial products.

InApp has been designed to support relationship managers and compliance officers with instant, context-specific regulatory guidance on the go and on any device. The web-based solution draws on the leading regulatory knowledge contained in the Country Manuals published by BRP Bizzozero & Partners SA and BRP Tax SA. InApp covers more than 180 jurisdictions and distinguishes between different client relationship scenarios. The solution is hosted on a secure Swiss cloud infrastructure.

The new version of inApp is available in English and French as of now and forms part of Indigita's broad offering of digital cross-border and compliance solutions.

Indigita CEO Achille Deodato said: "Performing checks on any asset class by simply entering an ISIN code makes inApp even more intuitive to use and adds substantial value for our clients. We are excited about working with SIX and looking forward to exploring further areas where we can collaborate and benefit from each other's expertise."
